

"Investment in China's Local Energy Infrastructure"
workshop sponsored by:

James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy

April 11, 2005
Baker Hall, Room 104
Rice University
Houston, TX

Agenda

Monday, April 11

9:30am-12:00pm – The International and Local Economic and Political Context

"Northeast Asia's Energy Partnership Toward Sustainable Development"

Kensuke Kanekiyo, Institute of Energy Economics, Japan

"Local Government and Energy Sector Development in China"

Kun-Chin Lin, Oxford University

"China's Local Governments, State Energy Companies, and the Development of the West-East Gas Pipeline"

Arthur Jiantao Yan, Texas Energy and Power

12:00-1:30pm – Lunch

1:30- 4:00pm – Energy and Environmental Awareness in China and Experiences of Investors Across China's Localities

"Unique Institutions of China's Local Economic Development and Investment in China's Local Energy Infrastructure"

Steven Lewis, Rice University

"Chinese Urban Residents' Views on Energy Development 2005"

Victor Yue Yuan, Horizon Survey Research, Beijing

International Industry Perspectives and Discussion

4:00pm-Break

6:00pm-Speaker and Participant Dinner